

Socially Conscious Teen Celebrity, Alexandra Rose Rieger, participates in star studded “Meet and Greet” with silent auction and raffle to benefit ‘The Breast Cancer Foundation’

Buena Park, California (January 13, 2007) – Alexandra Rose Rieger, a multi-talented 15-year-old socially conscious teen and celebrity from Los Angeles participated in a “Meet and Greet” with silent auction and raffle which benefited ‘The Breast Cancer Foundation.’ In the spirit of celebrating and remembering, the ‘good old days,’ the event was attended by celebrities of today and yesteryear. Visitors could come and mingle and find out what ever happened to Jan from the Brady Bunch or catch some of media’s newest reality stars such as Mojo from Joe Millionaire. And then there was Alexandra Rose Rieger. Rocky Whitehead, co-coordinator of the event said: “I invited Alexandra because I see her as that next big star and a representative for so many out there who want to make a difference. Also, she brings in a younger, fresher public and is an asset to the event, which is exactly what we want.” Todo Exito, covered the event and interviewed select celebrities. One of the participants sought out was Rieger. Oscar Sephia, journalist from Todo Exito magazine (www.TODOEXITO.COM) explained: “I met Alexandra at the Mercedes Benz Fashion week, where I first interviewed her. Her interviews prove to have broad base appeal. Something that is very hard for either young or older people to do. But she wins people over effortlessly.” Erin Moran, star of “Happy Days” commented regarding Rieger, “She has it, she’ll go far. And what’s more, she’s helping people along the way. Now that’s a big statement!”

About Alexandra Rose Rieger

At 15, Alexandra Rose Rieger, a teen prodigy, is indeed multi-talented. “Alexandra is an amazing teenager who reminds me of a younger Oprah or Alicia Keys,” says Tavis Smiley, talk show host and entrepreneur. As an actress, she was in “Akeelah and the Bee” with Laurence Fishburne and Angela Bassett., as well as “Bee Season” with Richard Gere. Current film in development is “Hollywood Chaos” with Brian White and Kwame Jackson. Rieger is also a musician (signed to BMI with original song debuting in this film.) For Rieger’s song featured in the upcoming studio film, “Hollywood Chaos,” she will play the acoustic guitar and piano as well as the vocals. As a stand up comedian Rieger has often appeared at “The Hollywood Improv”. Recently, Rieger gave her debut classical piano accompaniment, performing at Hollywood’s Egyptian Theater for The Cinecon Silent Film Festival. There, she accompanied Harold Lloyd’s silent movie “Ask Father” on the piano. On a more academic note, Rieger has just recently written and illustrated a book: “Lost and Found; from the Group of Wild Horses” which is in the process of being published. In Miss Rieger’s free time, she enjoys spending time with her friends, parents, baby brother and mentor and making a difference using her influence and skill.
