Teen Actress Debuts as Writer/Producer in Upcoming Short Film “Finding Hope”

Beverly Hills, California (November, 13th 2008) – 15 year old actress, Alexandra Rose Rieger from “Akeelah and the Bee” and “Bee Season” will debut as writer/producer in the upcoming short film entitled “Finding Hope.” Rieger wrote the script after winning a Fellowship from the Scriptwriters Network. The Director of the film is soon to be announced.

Rieger penned her script with mentorship from top screenwriters in the industry, including Syd Fields (acclaimed screenwriter and author), Don Payne (“My Super Ex-Girlfriend,” “Fantastic Four: The Silver Surfer”), Mike Ajakwe (writer from “Eve”) and Lorna Clarke (writer from “The Shield.”)

“Finding Hope” is a coming of age drama about a teenaged girl who wakes up from a coma to find that her family is falling apart. Can she find hope in herself in time to save her family? She discovers that hope is the spark that ignites the flames of miracles. The project is currently in pre-production with plans for release mid next year. Those interested in contributing please contact: 310.288.2530.

Rieger is repped by William Morris Agency (Talent/Voiceover), Sheba Media Group (Publicity), Stephen Barnes (Legal) and managed by S.T.Y.L.E. Entertainment.
